COFFEE WITH COUNCIL MEETING FRIDAY, JANUARY 13TH

Steamboat Springs, Colorado-Coffee with Council starts the New Year this Friday, January 13th with Councilman Scott Ford and other available council members from 7:30am to 9:00am. The housing issue is well defined and this session asks: How aggressive should the city be in addressing housing issues in the Steamboat Springs area? Plus any other topics of interest.

Coffee with Council sessions are typically held the second Friday of each month in the Crawford Room of Centennial Hall (124 10th Street). The goal is to provide an opportunity for community members to meet with City Council members in a relaxed atmosphere and discuss any issues of interest to them. Other cities and towns in Colorado have also adopted this approach in order to increase interaction between council and community members, and to promote greater transparency in City business.

No RSVP is necessary, community members are welcome to drop by to discuss any issues of interest to them. Coffee and light refreshments will be provided.
